Organic Garden Pest Control

With Eric Sideman, MOFGA Organic Crop Specialist and "the nation's first Organic Extension Agent." He provides technical support for farmers and gardeners, serves as staff scientist for MOFGA, plans and produces educational events for MOFGA and Cooperative Extension, and serves on various agricultural committees for the Maine Department of Agriculture and the University of Maine.

Apply the Natural Step principles to keeping pests at bay in the most sustainable way. Network, share announcements, welcome spring!
